

Join Us for CascadiaJS 2013!

CascadiaJS is a two-day community run developer conference focused on the cutting-edge of JavaScript technology. Browser, server, OS, we cover it all. We started this adventure back in 2012 where developers from all over the Pacific Northwest (and beyond!) gathered to talk about the cutting edge of JS and open web technologies.

What We Did in 2012

- Organized one the most polished, fun and informative JS conferences ever in Seattle
- Attracted 208 attendees & 23 speakers
- Posted 30 videos with 155 subscribers, 12k views and 90k minutes watched
- Garnered over 1500 tweets

What We Will Do in 2013

CascadiaJS 2013 will be held in Vancouver, BC on November 14-15. There will be ~200 attendees, drawing primarily from Portland, Seattle and Vancouver. We fully expect this year to build on last year, in terms of the quality of the speakers and attendees. We expect to sell out quickly once tickets go on sale.

Sponsorships are limited. Since this is an all-volunteer and not-for-profit event, the only purpose of the sponsorship funds is to fund T&E for the speakers and to provide an amazing educational and fun experience for the attendees. As soon as these needs are covered, we will not accept any more sponsorship proposals.
